oh gosh!
life is really too much!

donovan

maybe it's the time of year, and maybe it's the time of man and i don't know who i am, but life is for learning.

liberalization

thanks to a new administration which said ok(right in front of god and everybody), girls put on pants.
boys kept their hair.
sophomores and juniors
lounged around their own privilege areas.
even breakfast(hot chocolate and doughnuts before
the 8:25 bell)
happened inside.
gladly kids came.
freedoms
in daily life
made tne friends hip,
the friendship of
teacher
more
possible.
couples
dressed down crazily for morp(the kickoff dance)
where they found such novelties as garbage can punch
and where they perhaps forgot
the football team's defeat.
assemblies
attacked our ears and spectacled our eyes
to illustrate our minds.
ann landers, syndicated advice columnist, spoke on teenage problems. jens bjerre narrated his film on life in red china.
former olympic champion pepi steigler showed a film about skiing these assemblies captured attention, applause,
and
enthusiasm.
in the courtyard,
soul!
deerfield guard
offered a festival.

october and november
moratoriums
drew students from classes to marches,
rallies,
& debates. in sympathy many wore armbands or buttons.

peace.

amazement weekend

warriors managed
a somehow victory
in twenty remaining seconds.
that was the magical ending
to the weeks of
football practice,
float-building,
pom-pon practice,
football practice,
float-building,
pom-pon practice,
twirling practice,
cheerleading practice,
band practice, and
window-painting uptown.
seniors amazed
underclassmen
by presenting the best
float.
freshmen amazed
everyone
by winning the spirit jug at the pep rally.
(queen and court were announced at the rally,
instead of afterwards,
outside, at the bonfire.)

bobby pins?"
"conedera,
your left coconut is crooked."
"how'd it go?"
"great!
man, what an audience!"
"are they laughing?
hey, how were
we?"
"they love it!"
"hey, keep quiet back stage!"
"where's o'shea? anyone seen o'shea?

come together

who wintered here

did not escape
to the bottom half of the world, altho they could disagree with the gray snow and killing cold
which insisted—

maybe:
in school-wide audiences (unities of people),
assembled
to hear sidney
harris,
chicago daily news
columnist;
and christmas music, and a whole day of slide-shows, films, and info talks about drugs;

in paying audiences (seas of rivers),
gathered to
"deerflicks"
and student council's rock concert featuring
"for days and a night" and
"albatross";

in pollution exploration-discussion groups (unities of concern); in the great number of students taking exams (pocketfuls of aspirin);

in winter vacation especially
where
they could hide.

about up out

riper (because you're older again) like berries left on the bush shrivelled and sweet clinging
gray rain hurray-rain
mud-caked spring is clean:
not neat and nice like bathoiled girls.
tangled and hip, panting thru wonderland,
swaying and fumbling in the sky
like a miniature sun, won't fit into a 3-ring notebook birth is not confined to hospitals ideas happen in school people change seasons
students teach students one day with music, jello,
caesar salad,
flaming omelets,
vodka;
every day they take over empty rooms to fill empty time with sharing,
hand in hand, folk dances; crocheting techniques,
discussions about . . . well, anything (this is free school), and (spring) time to fly a kite plant play flowers
jumprope build sandcastles bring a daffodil to a teacher dance go swimming look for robins roller-blow bubbles skate
pick dandelions sing kiss your worst enemy kiss your best move your bed outside friend let loose all your parakeets and smile canaries
tiptoe have a tea party wear green clothes
find the big blue sky between clouds trees telephone wires and wild geese
ponder pollution
and yet
rejoice!

oceanic sense

a sea of children filled the big morning gym:
lapped its shores, touched its floors.
rivers of blood, rivers of suds flow to the sea even she can die of facts the elders offer
soot in your eyes
poisoning pesticides
the john hancock building radioactivity
parking lots
icky water
expanding population
litter asphalt
inescapable noise
and seeds for our deeds:
conservation in this nation and elsewhere,
groups like student council,
companies who care,
youth for environmental salvation.

don't it always seem to go that you don't know what you've got
'til it's gone?"

enlightened...

this year,
it's easy to be here.
the walls don't glare anymore—
they smile.
they let you
be
who you are;
become
who you will.
stop
hiding in the washrooms,
you.
it's ok to come out—
and talk
to the teachers
and sing
in the courtyard
and study
most anywhere
and learn.
belong,
be you.

prayer

the counselor
is my shepherd. i shall not fail. he maketh me
to fill out
four-year plans,
he leadeth me
to prepare for my sat's, he restoreth my class rank.
yea, though i walk through the valley of the shadow of college conferences,
i shall fear
no interview,
for he is with me.
thy recommendation and thy transcript they comfort me.
surely acceptance
and success shall follow me all the rest of my days,
and i shall dwell in the house of the ivy-covered walls
forever.

a bell.
an old, iron bell
with years

from the all pervasive spirit, gima (churning, swirling, blending, breathing out three elements: air,
earth,
and waters)
we perceive movement,
different in texture
as are those elements
in substance.
flight, elusive as the air.
winging, swiftly soaring, drawing wide arcs upon the sky.
wafting,
hovering, settling barefoot to earth, to bound and leap, and spinning, whirl
a spiral flash
to just the very edge.
then plunge
a diving glide past reflecting mirror-waters.
pulling,
slithering in the polished coolness.
airy grace, space and joyous leaping,
a liquid, languid glide. they merge and blend, same and never same.

but so does another door.
ideas take shape inside.
don't step on the empty cookie tins, or unroll the bus tickets.
be careful of the candy boxes that found no one to admire.
but these are just the shells, unborn ideas are formless—it takes people
to give them shape.

catch the wind

to capture reality,
distill or hold
or preserve
an essence of truth—
first to see the image of the answer.
to find it off guard
and snap
the shutter;
you have the proof forever.
first to hear
another voice,
a different language
speaking the same truth.
understanding breaks on all shores in waves of sound.
to isolate
a universal element,
the germ of all the world,
a single watery cosmos—
planet in microcosm.
and first to measure
in the boundless
boundaries
of one mind.
the dimension of reality,
an equation equalling
the truth.

the lesson

if you take the "a" from international, the "f" from friendship and the "s" from understanding, you get . . . yes, well—proceed, but remember (this is important)
the dhs sr far from the usa.
then, subtract
the "s" from afs, switch the letters you have left, and wedge a "t" (as in teacher) between them, you get . . .
and then, keeping only the "a", and putting a "d" for distributive, an "e" for education, and a "c" for club before it, suddenly, you have . . .
now, erase it. all of it.
"o" plus "o" does not equal zero.
it equals oo, as in office occupations. got it?

blood, sweat, and cheers

together—
hands together—clapping!
voices together—cheering!
trying together—winning!
or losing
but always together.
red and gray and red and gray and red an

hair has not been an outstanding characteristic of dhs football-players (those up-
standing young men who showed the best defense of the conference).
in fact,
hair has not been a dominant characteristic of any dhs athlete (not in season, anyway).
despite this,
the football-players are the

the inner drive

did you ever walk up to a fence and not know which side you're on—inside or outside, rightside or wrongside, goodside or badside? and it looks the same
on the other side.
on the court
only the sun in hotness colors everything
yellow-white bright
on both sides of the net glaring because spring has overgrown
players squint, every readying for the soft-hard
fast-slow lob-drive
forehand-backhand
flat-spin in-out
crouch-jump
reach-recoil
of the play
at center stage
between the rackets' nylon webs.
behind the rackets' nylon webs, stagehands wrists elbows arms legs knees ankles
hips waists backs
work supporting roles.
water in tall ball-cans waits and so do more sun times:
summer tournaments
and striving to be a sun-stained man of flashing white teeth, practical dashing feet,
a hardspun serve, a great overhead smash,
an ever-so-
gentle dropshot
just over.
the net divides the court equally and players change sides but some players have more on their sides.

when you talk—
he wants
to know how (who) you are.

people come and go away forever

j. collins

so much said in listening

j. mitchell

i did not know myself, for i was too deeply involved

h. hesse

something in the way she moves looks my way
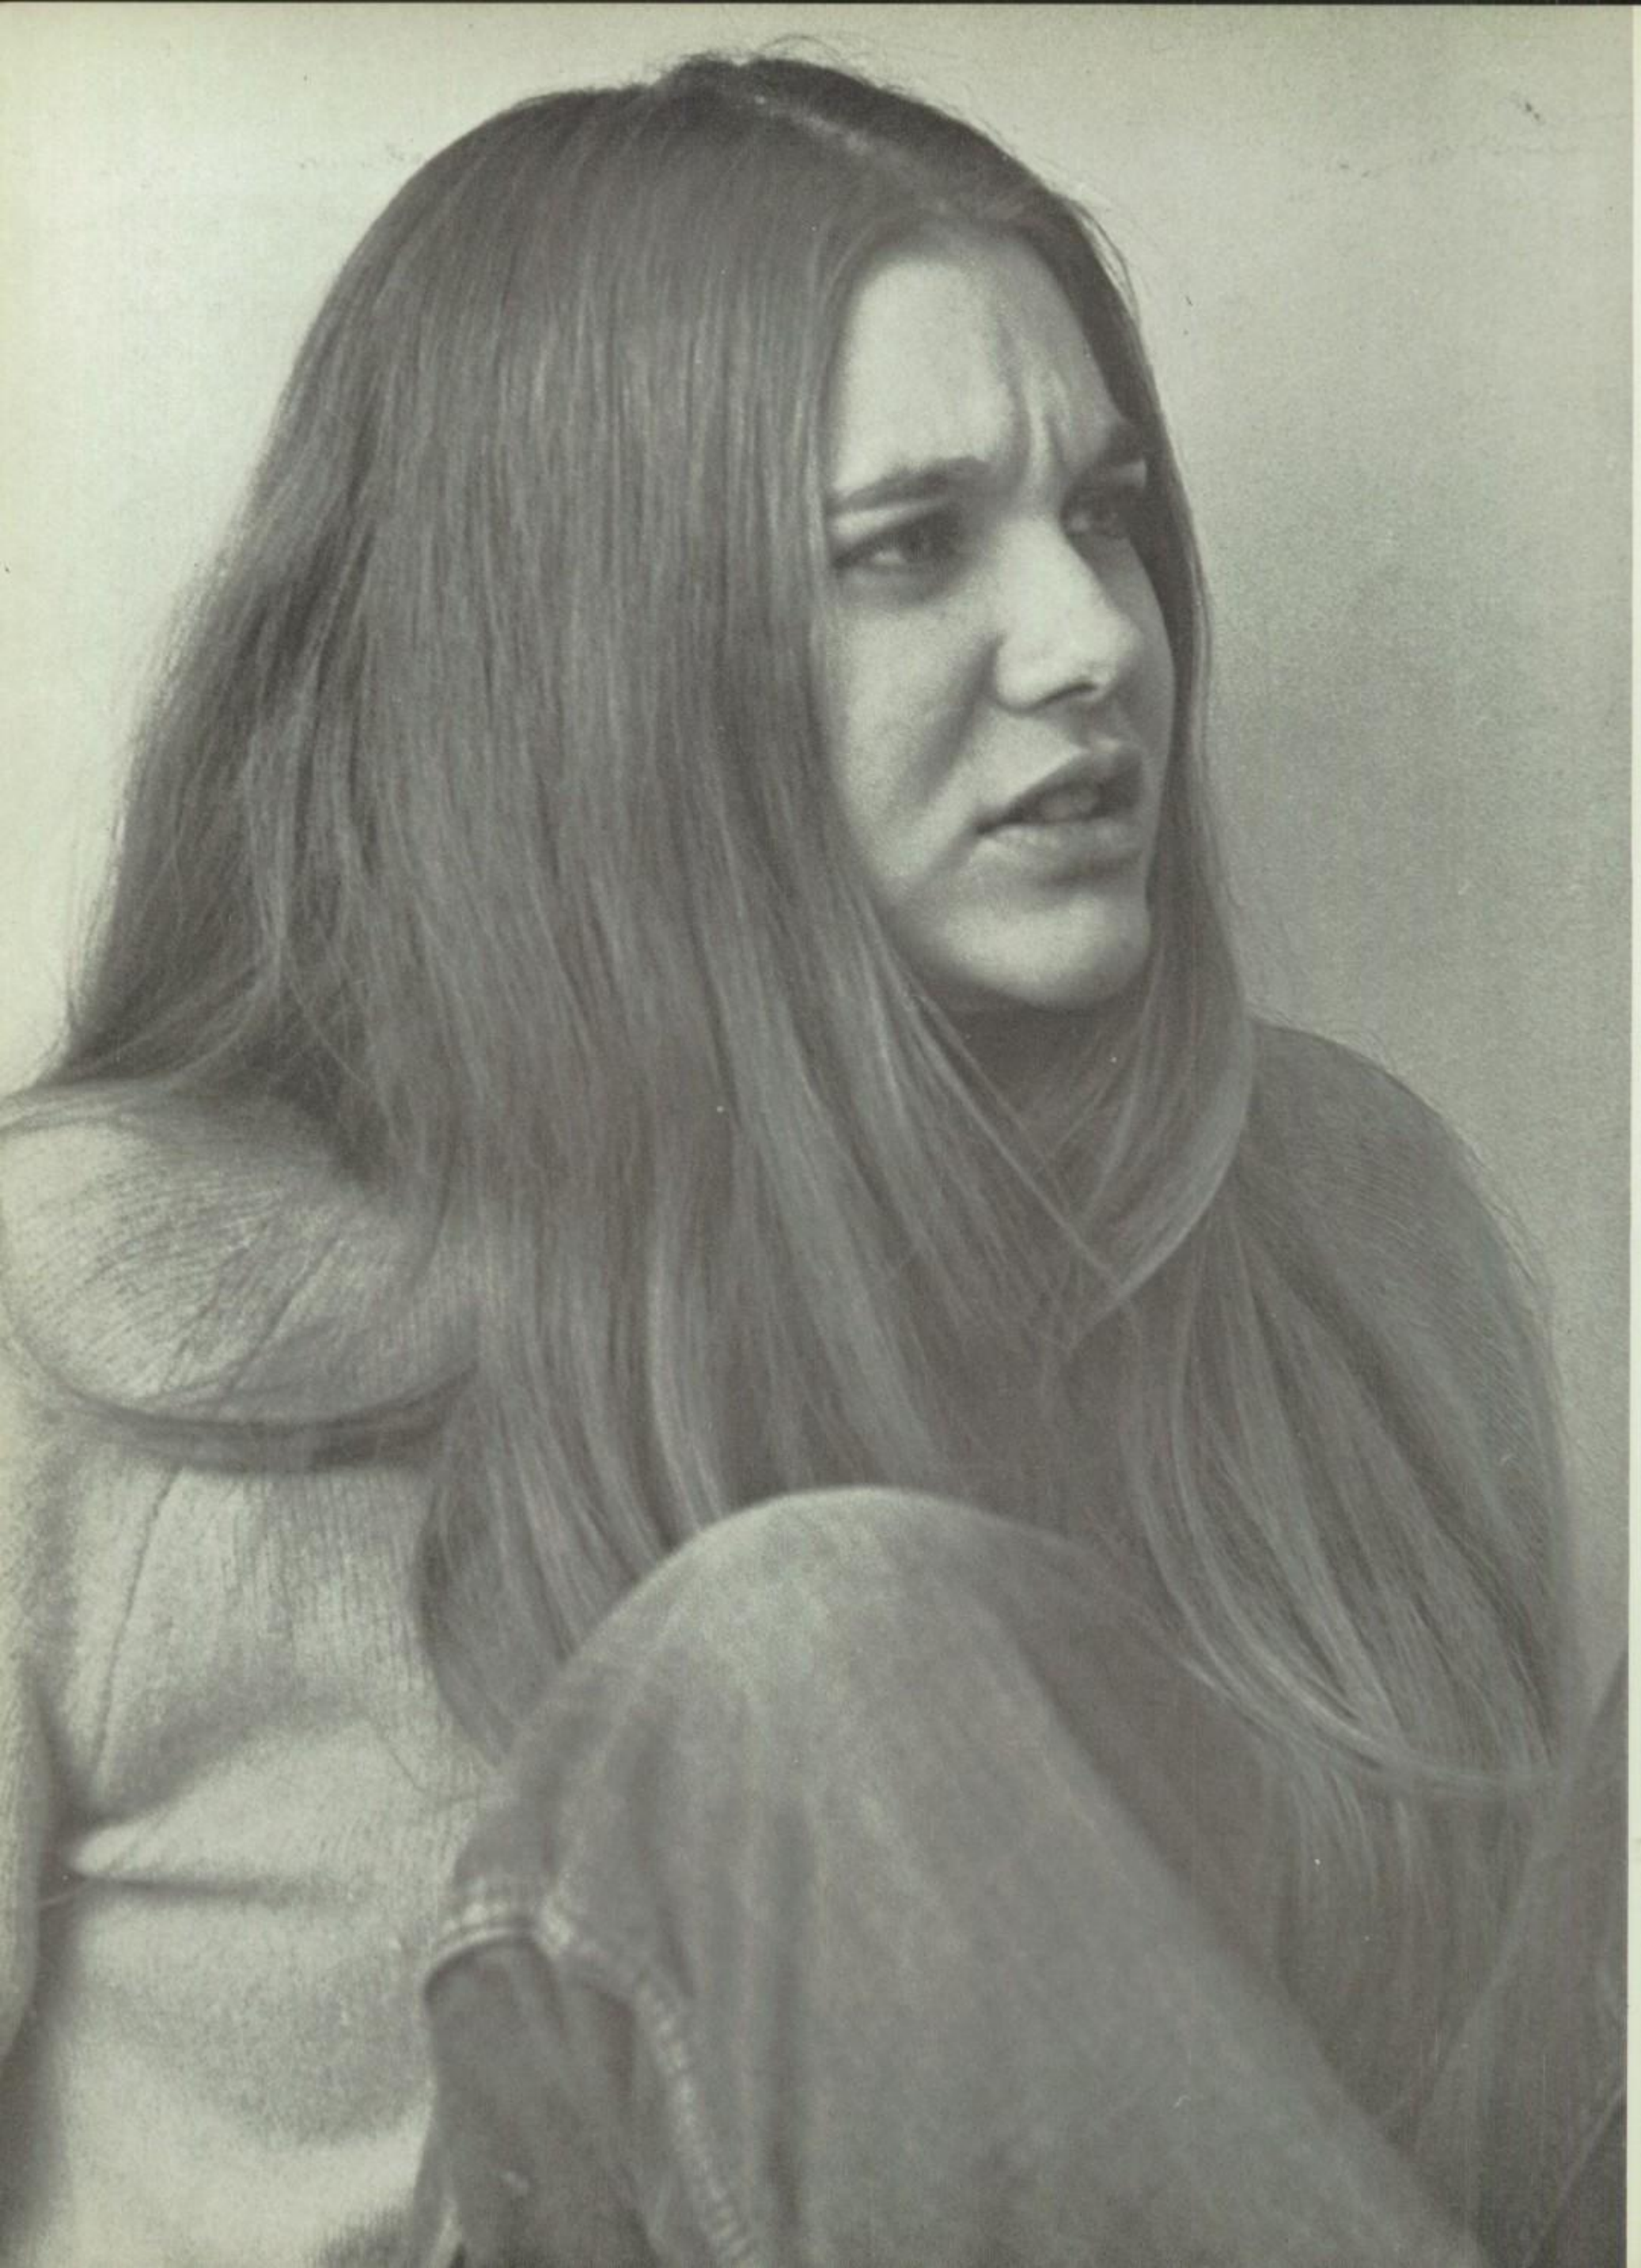
or calls my name
that makes me leave
this troubled world behind

j. taylor



i wanted only to try to live in accord with the promptings which came from my true self.
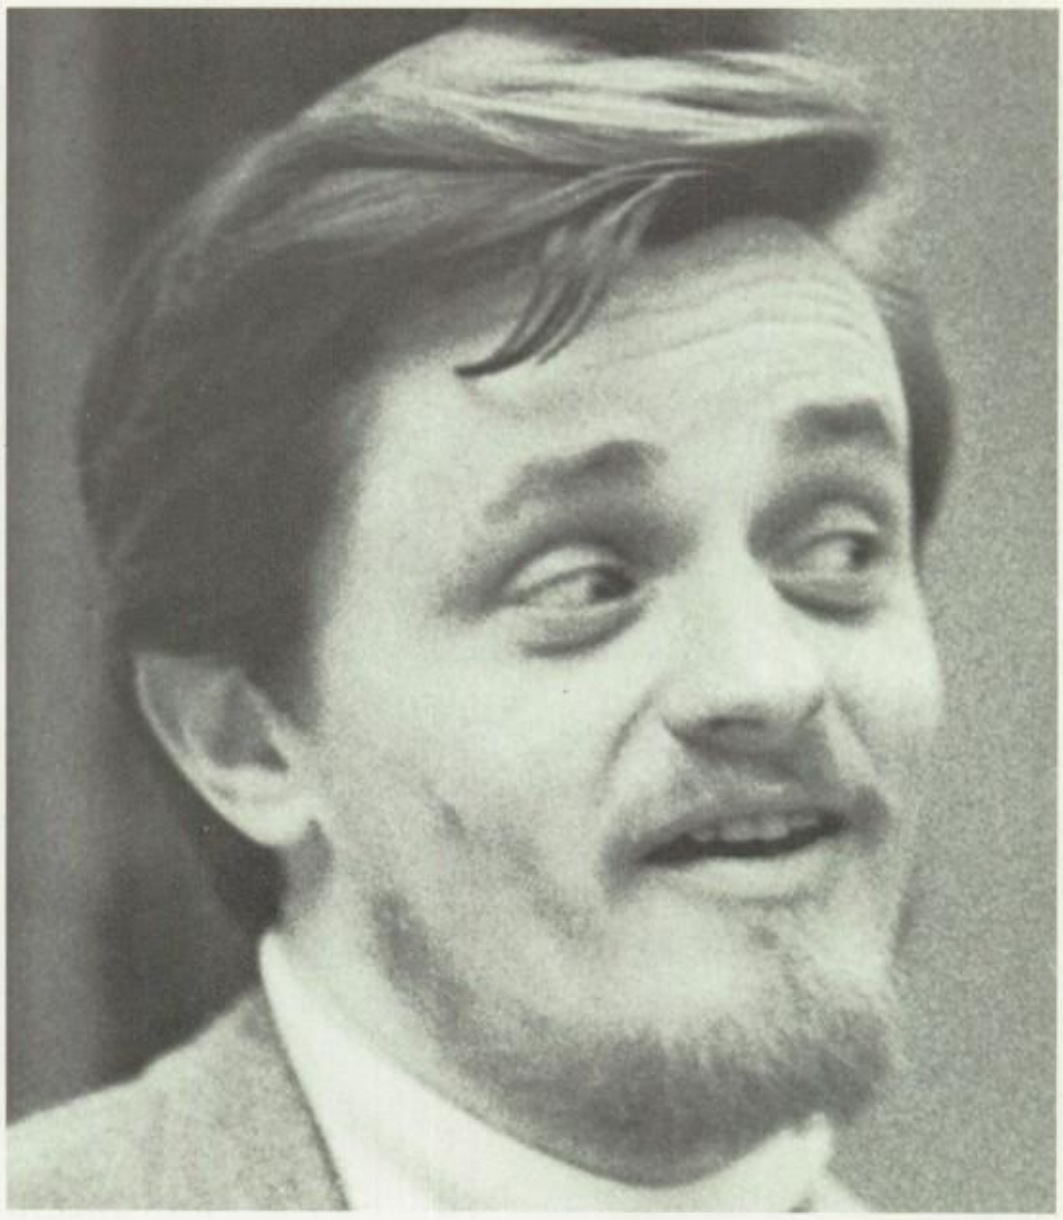
why was that so very difficult?

h. hesse


we are not
spectators,
just week-end
watchers
come to (ooh! aah!)
visit. we come here
often;
every day.
and well
we know
the fox, the smiling
mephistopheles, his eyes (leer)
an approving slit,
the way
his chin (beard) bobs—
he does love
a good eccentricity now and again. he rubs his paws together in demonic glee, and winks slyly (a tacit understanding) at the other.
the golden
cat, stalking
back and forth
unable to choose
the carnival noise
or the
muffled den of his fellows, he watches
always for snow, a great paw strikes out
at confinement. he is kept
too long away
from his mountains.
but he
is knowing,
receives the crafty wink (and returns it in his own time)
we are not ordinary spectators. (we come here every day).
they tolerate
our visits, and roll wise eyes at
our silliness. tomorrow when we're too old for the zoo, and send our sisters and friends instead, they'll growl and stretch and pace their cages—the show will be the same.
